Material information

The house leather we have selected for this piece is a pure aniline leather. As an untreated material, the leather may contain natural markings such as scarring, growth marks and differences in colouring. These markings are a part of the beauty of this natural material which has been selected for its high quality and comfort, and have no impact on the lifespan of the leather. Below are examples of natural variations that may occur.

Direct sunlight and heat can cause aniline leather to discolour. It is important not to use any chemical cleaning products or bleach as this will damage the leather.

For information on how to maintain and protect leather, please refer to the PINCH product care guide.
